Call for Abstracts – Do you have interesting or innovative research or a project to share related to abandoned mine drainage, mine reclamation, innovative uses for mine drainage or treatment residuals, or a related topic? TU and the WBSRC are seeking individuals to provide presentations on these topics on May 6, during the 5th West Branch Susquehanna Restoration Symposium. Projects with a focus in the West Branch Susquehanna River basin are preferred, but not required. Interested persons should send a short abstract (250 word maximum) along with their name, affiliation, and contact information to Rachel Kester at rkester@tu.org by Wednesday, February 10.

Student Poster Contest – TU and the WBSRC are also pleased to announce that a student poster competition will be held in conjunction with the 5th West Branch Susquehanna Restoration Symposium. Posters should present research related to abandoned mine drainage, abandoned mine reclamation, or a related topic. Projects with a focus in the West Branch Susquehanna River basin are preferred, but not required. Each student entering a poster will receive a scholarship to attend the conference and 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place contestants will receive a monetary award. To enter, please send an abstract (250 word maximum) along with your name, affiliation, and contact information to Rachel Kester at rkester@tu.org by Friday, April 30.
